HISTORY

The Immigrant Services Society of British Columbia (ISS of BC) is the oldest not-for-profit immigrant-serving agency in the province. It was formed in 1968 as a response to the arrival of 800 Ismaili refugees fleeing Uganda's Idi Amin. The ISS of BC was incorporated in 1972 as the first immigrant-serving agency in BC.

The ISS of BC pioneered what are commonly referred to as settlement services, host programs, and refugee reception services for immigrants and refugees in British Columbia.

Mission

Helping immigrants build a future in Canada.

Purpose

We will achieve our mission by:

- + Delivering educational, settlement, and employment services.
- + Developing partnerships with local communities.
- + Promoting an integrated and equitable community.

The ISS of BC “Welcome House Centre” will be the first facility of its kind in the world: a fully integrated and coordinated regional service hub that addresses the immediate needs of refugees and immigrants.

New arrivals to Canada will have streamlined access to care through on-site services from myriad organizations, public institutions, and programs in combination with housing. Both first-stage and second-stage housing will be provided, which cover the first two-week period in Canada and the first year, respectively.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The façade of the “Welcome House Centre” will feature public art that weaves together a mosaic of global styles with First Nations art in an abstracted “global quilt.” This speaks to the rich cultural heritage of British Columbia, while welcoming refugees and immigrants to their new home on behalf of the first peoples of Canada.

The art pays homage to myriad cultural heritages, while serving as a symbolic bridge between immigrant’s home countries and their new host country.

To increase service coordination and other efficiencies, the regional service hub will bring together several not-for-profit organizations, including the Inland Refugee Society (IRS), Settlement Orientation Services (SOS), the Vancouver Association for Survivors of Torture (VAST), and the Mount Pleasant Family Place’s Circle of Care and Connection Early Childhood Development Refugee program.

A multipurpose government outreach office will include staff from the Department of Citizenship and Immigration Canada and the Ministry of Social Development and Service Canada.

The purpose-built, 74,000-square-foot, LEED Gold facility will feature:

- + 28 units (160-200 beds) of first-stage and second-stage housing in various configurations that accommodate singles and families of up to 16 members.
- + A regional primary health care clinic.
- + A refugee trauma support and treatment centre for both adults and children.
- + Child minding space, including an outdoor playground and family area.
- + An immigrant refugee youth drop-in space.
- + A food bank.
- + A community kitchen and multiple meeting spaces.
- + A law clinic space.
- + First language settlement support staff offices.
- + A teaching facility linked to several post-secondary institutions.
- + ISS of BC corporate service offices.

PROJECT TEAM

Immigrant Services Society of BC

The Immigrant Services Society of British Columbia (ISS of BC) has been operating 12 housing units (up to 90 beds) in Vancouver since 1985, providing the only first-stage temporary housing facility for all the government-assisted refugees destined for BC every year (800-900 individuals). It is one of the largest multicultural immigrant-serving agencies in Canada, with 350 staff, 14 sites throughout Metro Vancouver and Squamish, 800 active volunteers, and a $22M annual operating budget.

The ISS of BC offers a wide range of programs and services for newcomers to BC, including the largest provider of adult ESL classes; employment and career assistance programs; specialized services for children, youth, and women; community development; social enterprise; and first language settlement support services in over 40 languages. It has been consistently recognized by the Workplace Institute as one of the top 100 Best Workplaces in Canada (2007, 2009, 2010, 2011, and 2012). It's the only not-for-profit society in Canada to make the list. It also ranked as the fourth Best Workplace for Women in Canada in 2011.
